Luxembourg Internet Days 2017

The “Luxembourg Internet Days” have cemented its position of key event for ICT professionals with the presence of high-quality speakers, its relevant subject's selection and its rather technical and pragmatic approach. This all, plus its interesting design split between conferences, interactive debates, an expo, focused work groups and networking sessions, have contributed to attract an increasing number of visitors over the years, travelling from the whole Europe as well as from across the globe.
