PROFILE

Hello,

I am a 24-year-old former high-level athlete who, after many injuries, decided to change career paths. After several years of reflection and diverse experiences, I chose to pursue web development.

I completed a 3-month internship as a front-end developer, during which I gained solid foundations in Git, HTML, CSS, and Vue.js. I am now looking for a junior front-end developer position, preferably fully remote, in order to continue developing my skills and gaining experience.
